WHO COINED THE SLOGAN?

At a Museum meeting Monday night the question arose as to whom the credit goes for coining the Hondo sign slogan: "This is God's Country, Don't Drive Through it Like Hell."

Harry Filleman says he has asked around and the few people who remember at all seem to think the credit should go to W. N. Saathoff a former County School Superintendent.

When was the first sign erected? There seems to be a difference of opinion as to the exact time. However it is agreed that it did begin to greet people more than 30 years ago.

I understand from Harry's and John Wentz' conversation, however, that there was a big hassle over the sign, with some church people insisting it was blasphemy against the Good Lord. They must have put up a big noise, for the sign came down.

But, then the real agitation began as the heathens, blasphemers and just plain old lovers of clever signs sent their shouts skyward.

The outcome you can see today. The sign greets motorists as they enter the city and the postcard copy of the sign greets people all over the world.

This latter fact is a story in itself. It seems in 1968 the Hondo Lions Club suggested that some of the cards be printed so they could be distributed at a Lions International Convention in Dallas. HemisFair also was coming up and the idea had added merit. So with a picture taken by Whitey Zinsmeyer the postcard was printed and the distribution began. Now the card goes all over the world and is undoubtedly the best publicity Hondo has going for it. The Chamber has just re-ordered 25,000, so if you want to do your share of spreading Hondo around, then take a few with you the next time you go round the world--or into the next county even.

A NEWSPAPER'S ROLE

How many times have you heard, "You don't understand what I do?" All of us feel that way about our jobs sometimes. But we in the newspaper business feel it strongly most of the time.

We know we owe an obligation to the community to print and publicize everything we possibly can. And we attempt to do so. But we know, and we hope others realize the same thing, that to be able to continue to build the town, its projects, its clubs, its other organizations, a newspaper must have advertising to make enough income to survive, and hopefully make a profit.

Sig H. Atkinson, publisher of the Brownfield News, said it very well in a recent column:

"Most local people take for granted many services which are provided for Brownfield and like communities by their hometown newspaper. Services are often expensive for the newspaper and free of charge to the groups served.

Stock show's a comin'

Monday was lamb grooming day at D'Hanis when 4-H and FFA youngsters gathered to groom their lambs for the Medina County Junior Fat Stock Show coming up next month at the stockyards in Hondo. Among a number of young people turning out Monday was this group consisting of Wayne A. Cheney (lower left and clockwise), Mario Reyes, Stephen Koch and Tony Zinsmeyer, all of D'Hanis. Reyes is FFA and the other boys are 4-H members.

New hospital Medicare application is prepared

An application for recertification by Medicare is expected to be filed this week for Medina Memorial Hospital. Melvin Finger, hospital administrator, was working on the application Tuesday.

The application is being prepared for recertification on the assumption that President Nixon will sign a bill pushed through Congress in its final days by the Texas delegation.

Under the proposed law, federal authorities can grant exceptions to rural hospitals which are unable to comply with Medicare provisions requiring 24-hour registered nursing.

Where rural hospitals are making a bonafide effort to obtain registered nurses covering 24-hour operation, and where nurses cannot be obtained, the requirement may be waived.

Medina Memorial Hospital lost its certification last year. One of the reasons given was failure by the hospital to maintain a registered nurse on duty 24 hours daily.

Last week US Rep. Abraham (Chick) Kazen came to Hondo to tell local officials about the proposed new law. Hospital authorities indicated to him that if the nursing problem could be solved, the facility could meet other requirements for Medicare certification.

Esquivel trial is scheduled to begin Monday at 10 a.m.

Elpidio Esquivel, charged in the rape of a 26-year-old mother of three, is scheduled to go on trial for his life here Monday morning. The defendant is one of three charged with the crime which the state alleges took place early in December, 1969 north of Castroville.

The state had said earlier it will seek the death penalty. District Judge Ross E. Doughty of Uvalde will preside in the Medina County courthouse.

Esquivel's attorney had attempted earlier to quash the indictment against his client, claiming that the composition of the grand jury included no members with Mexican-American surnames.

After Judge Doughty denied the motion to quash the indictment, the attorney asked for a change of venue, maintaining his client could not receive a fair trial in Medina County. Judge Doughty also denied that motion.

Subdivision ordinance adopted

Medina County Commissioners Court yesterday adopted an ordinance pertaining to subdivisions outside the boundaries of incorporated towns and cities in Medina County.

The ordinance spells out regulations for recording of subdivision plats and establishes construction standards and other requirements.

Copies of the ordinance may be obtained from County Judge Jerome Decker.

County plans new building

Medina County Commissioners Fred Bader, Hilmer Mangold, Charles Langfeld and Ira Barron with Judge Jerome Decker wrestled with priorities and means of financing major county projects during the coming year at Monday's session of County Commissioners Court.

The court authorized Commissioner Ira Barron to have blueprints drawn for a small county building in Devine to

Hondoans were thirsty

Hondoans consumed an average of 888,842 gallons of water daily in the period Dec. 1, 1970 to Jan. 1, 1971.

The figure was given city councilmen Tuesday night by Elmer Faseler, superintendent of the water department.

In the 30-day period ending December 16, Faseler said the city pumped 27,057,400 gallons. Customers were billed for 65 per cent of the total, or 17,439,300 gallons. The remaining 35 per cent, 9,618,100 gallons, was unmetered.

A large portion of unmetered city water is used to water the golf course.

Registration pace is slow

Voter registration continues at a slow pace for 1971 elections in Medina County.

Approximately 2600 persons have registered to vote with the county tax collector's office as of Tuesday noon. The deadline for voter registration is January 31.

Applications are being taken from 18-year-olds for voter registration. However, those under 21 will be able to vote only in elections for federal offices, and no such elections are scheduled in 1971.

New railroad crossing open

The new railroad crossing at Avenue E has been opened and Avenue F is now closed at the railroad crossing.

A San Antonio attorney has again levelled charges of police harassment and intimidation of Mexican-Americans in Hondo.

The attorney, John Alaniz, made the charges at Tuesday night's Hondo City Council meeting. He said Encarnacion Trevino would testify that he was beaten and knocked to the ground when arrested recently for driving while intoxicated.

Alaniz also charged that Breathalyzer tests have been given by city police who are not qualified to operate the machine. The Breathalyzer is used to determine whether or not a person is intoxicated under the law.

He complained that Guadalupe Rodriguez had been arrested for driving while intoxicated, and was tested by Hondo police.

Rodriguez pointed to city policeman James Shofner as the man who tested him.

Shofner told councilmen that the sheriff's office has hired James Ross of Kingsville who is qualified to make the tests. He said when Ross is available, city police have him do the tests rather than calling on a highway patrolman trained to operate the machine.

Shofner said he had never operated the machine.

Asked what happened when Trevino was arrested, Shofner said Trevino was asked several times by officers to get into the police car, and refused to go. He said the suspect was then handcuffed and put in the car.

According to test records, Trevino checked out at .17 on the machine. He told councilmen he had had two or three beers, Rodriguez, who admitted having four or five beers, checked out at .18. The state says .10 is high enough to indicate a person is intoxicated.

City Attorney Hugh Meyer told the San Antonio attorney that while he felt .10 is too low, anyone who does not want to get into a patrol car and who has a reading of .18 would require "... a wrestling match ..." to get him into the car.

Alaniz said the city council should investigate his charges, and that there is a definite pattern of intimidation.

He said he felt the action was being taken because the April elections are drawing near and that attempts are being made to keep the Mexican-Americans from taking an active part in political matters.

"Oh dear!" snorted Meyer reacting to Alaniz's statement. "Mr. Alaniz," said Meyer, "I'd like to tell you something. This is just an observation. As a matter of fact, in this community, anyone that would harass the Mexican-American community for political purposes before election is not only mean, he's an idiot!"

"It's lousy politics," Meyer added. "These people are not stupid you're talking to ... the thing about it is, it's a pretty good vote in this community, and we want it."

Alaniz also again raised the question of the racial breakdown in arrest figures. Earlier he complained that those arrested were in a large

Museum Day 1971 is scheduled in May

Museum Day 1971 will be staged it was decided at the lightly attended Monday night Medina County Museum, Inc. board meeting.

The exact date was not chosen, but the big event will be staged in early May. Burnis Lawrence, publisher of the Anvil Herald, was named general chairman of the event and he told those present that at the February meeting he would present suggested plans for the staging of this event which proved so successful last August.

Study will be given to all portions of last year's big day and those attractions that proved successful will be included in this year's efforts. Other new attractions also will be encouraged.

The National Guard Armory site was tentatively chosen for the 1971 event pending approval by Guard officials. However, the Antique Auction, which under the direction of Fritz Leinweber, proved to be the most successful event in the 1970 Day, probably will be staged at the Museum site if more room can be arranged, like and outside covering.

Museum directors Monday night also discussed a concerted membership drive with Tony Mendoza serving as chairman. Mendoza said plans would be formulated in the near future.

President John Wentz reported that repair work is being done on the Museum and it should be only a few days before the Museum can be locked.

Discussion was given also to accepting items for the Museum and Mrs. Wilbur (Gladys) Lindeburg and Miss Nora Winkler are on a committee to design a floor plan for the Museum.

New requirements may force Medina Memorial Hospital to install sprinkler system

Rep. Abraham (Chick) Kazen, in town last week to tell Hondoans that the way has probably been opened for their hospital to be recertified for Medicare, also warned that another problem may be on the way.

Kazen said indications are that hospitals are being told they must be fireproof and/or have sprinkler systems.

While the threat of forced heavy expenses to install sprinkler systems may be subject to delay, it appears there is a chance that the step will have to be taken eventually by numerous hospitals, he said.

Some hospital administrators are particularly unhappy over this latest turn of events. They point out that their hospitals are relatively new and were constructed to conform to strict federal standards that are part of the Hill-Burton program.

Having taken pains to follow federal regulations to the letter, the administrators are now being told in many instances that expensive alterations must be made in their hospitals for sprinkler systems.

Kazen noted last week that even if every Texas hospital without a sprinkler system were to order one now, it would be a long, long time before the installations could be made.

That's because, Kazen said, there are only a small number of Texas firms qualified to install sprinkler systems. Consequently, he didn't feel the requirement - if it becomes a requirement - would be of immediate concern to Medina Memorial Hospital and other facilities like it.

Acknowledging that sprinkler system requirements would impose an economic burden upon small hospitals, Kazen also noted in an interview on KRME last week Wednesday that adequate protection against fires in hospitals is advisable.

The representative pointed out that people are placed in hospitals because they are unable to take care of themselves, and are therefore in peril in the event of fire.

"The activities of civic organizations, athletic events, business promotions, farm development and social affairs are good examples. Often these activities would be dismal failures without the free help of the local newspaper. Some of them owe their existence to newspaper publicity.

"An editor friend here in Texas dramatized the situation in a humorous column recently. He said that he figured it cost his newspaper $900 when a local girl got married. The cost was figured on the basis of type composition and space used on stories on the wedding and parties leading up to the wedding.

"This does not include about 40 hours of tedious work on the part of the society editor telling about how beautiful and charming the honoree (sometimes as ugly as a mud fence) was in chantilly lace, black sheath, etc.

"The editor then set up a standing offer: '$15.00 wedding present to any girl that runs off and gets married.' He figured it was worth this and then some.

"However, our distraught editor friend can find some consolation in the publicity given to non-commercial activities. The importance attached to publicity by the local community is continuing proof that the newspaper is a closely read and indispensable local advertising medium."

We at the Anvil Herald hope to continue to be able to publicize anything and everything that will help build our city and county, its people, its organizations. However, we do hope that people who benefit from this publicity realize that behind the facade of community-minded effort lies a business that must have income to survive.

However, Mayor George Brucks gave Alaniz figures on city arrests in September and October, up to the November council meeting. They showed that of eight DWI arrests, five had Anglo names and three were Mexican-American surnames. He said December showed two Mexican-Americans and one Anglo arrested for DWI.

Alaniz replied to the effect that county records indicate larger numbers of Mexican-Americans, to which several councilmen replied simultaneously that they are responsible only for arrests by city police.

Prior to lodging complaints with the council, Alaniz and T. A. Lopez of PASO complimented councilmen for street work done on the north side of town. They also said they had not seen the police dog being used.

Governor invites Owl Band

Gov. Preston Smith announced today, "We are extremely pleased and honored that the Hondo High School Band of Hondo will be featured in our inaugural parade Jan. 19 in Austin."

Maintenance crews to go on 40-hour week

The Texas Highway Commission has reduced the normal work week of hourly-paid maintenance employees of the Texas Highway Department from 45 to 40 hours a week.

The change is effective March 1.

The action was taken to bring the work week of hourly paid maintenance employees into line with those of salaried employees of the Department who have been on a regular 40-hour work week for several years.

The Commission has had under study for a considerable time a proposal to place all employees on a uniform work week without a reduction in gross pay. The action today implements this proposal.

lost at the end of March, Sheriff C. J. Hitzfelder said this week.

Hitzfelder said the service was launched on a trial basis six months ago, and has been extended through March 31. However, he said, it may be terminated unless local residents write their elected representatives in Washington asking that the service be continued.

The sheriff said the emergency helicopter ambulance had been used in five occasions in Medina County, taking burn victims, heart attack cases and auto accident victims to hospitals in San Antonio.

Hitzfelder said the helicopter is the fastest means of transporting people in need of emergency treatment. A heart case in Castroville, he said, was in a San Antonio hospital in a half hour after the unit was requested.

A Pearsall youth's life was saved by the helicopter ambulance, he said, after a shooting.

Hitzfelder asked that local residents write to US Rep. Abraham (Chick) Kazen, US Sen. Lloyd Bentsen and US Sen. John Tower in Washington, urging them to take action that will make the emergency helicopter ambulance service permanent.

Gilliam-Bammert vows said

Double ring vows were exchanged Saturday, Jan. 9, at 3 p. m. between Miss Judith Lynn Bammert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Bammert of Weesatche, and A. Olin Gilliam, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Gilliam, Sr. of Hondo.

Rev. Peter J. Kolvenbach officiated at the ceremony in Immaculate Conception Catholic Church of Goliad. Miss Janice Rajvar of Goliad, organist, played traditional wedding music. Server for the Mass was Mark Pfenniger of Goliad.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original gown and headdress designed and made by her mother. The formal empire styled gown was of candlelight peau de sole embellished with re-embroidered Alencon lace encrusted with seed pearls, bugle beads and aurore borealis crystals.

The bodice was designed with a wedding ring neckline, long belled sleeves styled with large, lace covered satin cuffs. Beaded appliques adorned the bodice from the empire waistline to the high rise neckline and also on the belled sleeves and cuffs.

Her Juliet-style headdress was designed of lace appliques and peau de sole encrusted with seed pearls, bugle beads and aurore borealis crystals. The cap held a tiered finger-tip illusion veil.

She wore an antique gold locket and earrings belonging to her maternal great-grandmother and a heart pendant given to her by the groom. She also carried a white embroidered handkerchief given to her by her paternal great-grandmother. She carried a cascade of white carnations, centered with pink gladiettes with white shower ribbons tied in love knots.

Miss Sharon Bammert of Austin, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Rebecca and Deborah Bammert, sisters of the bride, and Miss Salli Martin of Grenada, Miss.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore gowns of aqua peau de sole A-line skirts with aqua brocade bodices and cuffs of a pattern similar to the bride's. They wore Juliet caps of peau de sole with veils similar to the bride's. They also wore cameo chokers, gifts from the bride. Each carried a cluster of yellow rosebuds on a long stem with yellow shower ribbons.

Steve Myers of Hondo was best man and groomsmen were Glen Garrison of Hondo and Jimmy Sellers of San Antonio, cousins of the groom, and Will Bates of Kingsville.

Serving in the house party were Mrs. Earle Albrecht and Miss Linda Hoff of Goliad, Misses Linda and Cora Gilliam of Hondo, sisters of the groom, Miss Marcy Garrison of Hondo, cousin of the groom; Misses Harriet Montgomery of Odem, Janice Goebel of Cuero, Rosalind Skeen of Refugio, and Margi Dodyns of San Juan. Passing out rice bags were Misses Lori and Michele Bammert, sisters of the bride, and Miss Renie Gilliam, sister of the groom.

For a wedding trip to Mexico the bride wore a cafe au lait colored long sleeved wool dress with brown lizard accessories and a corsage of pink gladiettes.

The bridegroom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at LaBahia Restaurant in Goliad.

The bride, a graduate of Goliad High School, attended Victoria College where she was a member of Phi Kappa Theta. She is a December cum laude graduate of Texas A&I University in Kingsville and is presently employed by the mathematics department at that university.

The bridegroom graduated from Hondo High School and is presently a senior at Texas A&I University. He is president of the Aggie Club and a member of the Agriculture Student Council.

Area ranchers asked for predator money

Funds are almost exhausted in the Hondo Canyon Wolf Club account, according to Hondo Chamber of Commerce manager Harry Filleman.

Filleman said contributions from participating ranches of $75 annually are needed to keep the club's program going. Funds are used to pay a trapper to control predators on area ranch lands.

Participating money also comes from the state and county, Filleman said. However, he said the county will refuse to contribute to the fund unless benefitting land owners support the project.

If money is not forthcoming, Filleman said, the trapper will be removed from Medina County.

Payments into the fund may be mailed to the Hondo Chamber of Commerce which accepts contributions to the fund as a public service.

Mrs. M. J. Lorfing has returned from a 3-week trip to Casper, Wyo., where she visited her son Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel (Pete) Lorfing and family. Accompanying her on the trip was another son, Michael, and his wife of Dallas. En route to Wyoming they stopped in Denver, Colo. to visit Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lorfing.

Mrs. Lorfing was impressed with the beauty of the snow covered country they visited including Jackson Hole and the Teton Mountains.

Cows need feeding now

With current soil moisture and grazing situations not too good, supplemental feeding of the beef herd is likely to be mighty important during the next few months.

According to County Agent Glenn Bragg, cattlemen should be able to save both time and money by feeding protein supplement twice a week rather than each day.

Texas A&M University tests have shown that cattle fed protein supplement twice a week performed just as well as those fed each day. The result from the twice weekly feeding was about a 60% saving in labor and travel. This method of feeding, says the county agent, doesn't necessarily mean feeding less supplement, just feeding more less frequently.

During the cold winter months, he notes, cattle need plenty of forage for the production of body heat. A low quality forage that is high in fiber is a good feed for storm periods, because of the high body heat generated from digesting the fiber in the roughage.

A well-fed cow, notes Bragg, can withstand low temperatures. Researchers say the critical temperature is just above the point at which cattle begin to shiver. A cow on a fasting diet, or without any feed, reaches a critical temperature at about 55 degrees F. A maintenance ration lowers the critical temperature to about 23 degrees F. With an increase in feed consumption, the critical temperature to well below zero.

Wet hair and an increase in wind velocity raise the critical temperature drops and thus increase the amount of feed required for body heat production by the animal.

Good dividends can be expected, concludes the county agent, if cattle are well-fed during the winter stress months.

This week

That's all she wrote

By Edna McDade

Having come from the borderland where manana is good enough etc., it didn't take much arm-twisting to persuade me to extend my delightful vacation another week-or-so. So . . . another communique from Lancaster, Pa., where this day (Jan. 4) finds this area still blanketed under the 10-inch snow which ushered in the New Year.

Any spots I might be seeing before, my trifocals are all white today. Yesterday, we were fog-bound for the earliest morning hours. When the sun did break through I had my first view of a hoarfrost fairyland. The tall bare-limbed spruce and birch trees were dazzling ice-sculptures. Vines were scalloped in garlands of tinsel. Jack Frost's Christmas decorations just a bit late.

I carefully recorded the details in my "memory" album of pictures to recapture them at will, come some high-90's summer day in Hondo.

The bird-feeding business was as brisk as the weather and we supplied a steady stream of hungry customers around the patio. I missed the doves and songbirds and the more colorful feathered friends which patronize my backyard feeder at 2807 Ave. L.

Winter visitors here seem limited to cowbirds, starlings, a few sparrows and the endless formations of big black crows which state their demands so vociferously. Probably 'cause they're hungry, too!

The Lancaster County Bird Club reported an all-time high population of 25,846 birds during 1970, including a total of 91 species but no roadrunners. Dedicated bird-watchers made their last count in freezing weather and must have envied the birds their fluffed-out feather coats.

A letter from my good friend, MAGGIE (Mrs. Harrison) WILSON of Yancey and date-lined Aug. 12, 1970 reached me Dec. 31--of the same year. She had written the salutation and part of the first paragraph (as she explained in the greeting which accompanied the almost blank page) when she was interrupted by an emergency phone call from Chicago where her sister VIOLA had been seriously injured in the Civic Opera House bombing. The story eventually had a happy ending but caused long weeks of anxiety for the family.

It is no wonder that Maggie not only lost track of time but of the unfinished letter. She had found it only a few days before she wrote an explanation for its delay -- which had nothing at all to do with the postal service which catches so much of our disgruntled criticism these days.

When I answered a long distance phone call just after Christmas, it was a pleasant surprise when the caller identified himself as an ex-Hondonian who still reads the ANVIL HERALD cover-to-cover.

RICHARD, son of my good neighbors, the ANTON J. HARDTS, is a transplant to Pennsylvania where he and his family now live -- in Gladwyne, near Philadelphia.

We had a typical old-home week visit and talked about our mutual friends there. Mine included LLOYD HARDT, who has extended many courtesies, and whom Richard described as his "kid brother" with due brotherly pride. We also mentioned his uncle, Mr. HERMAN FRICK who keeps an eye on the RAYMOND SCHUCHARTS of Rio Medina and about whom I had the pleasure of writing a story a few years ago.

Richard's aunt is Miss ALVINA FRICK of SA, and our friendship dates back to the years when I lived in San Antonio where we were both Travis Park-ers and members of the Wesleyan Service Guild there.

Regretfully, I had to decline Richard's kind invitation to visit his family but I took a "rain check". He told me that they had been in Hondo earlier when his parents observed their golden wedding anniversary, an event which I was unable to attend.

I note, by the way, that what we call "open house" is described in local society news as a "drop in". Any similarity to a "drop out" is accidental, I'm sure!

Pearsall defeats Owl five

Hondo's 9-point third quarter at Pearsall Tuesday night sent the Owls down to defeat 79-62.

The Owls held a 31-30 half-time lead, then fell far behind in the third quarter when the Mavericks scored 20 points.

Hondo rebounded in the final period with 22 points, only to be outscored 29-22 by Pearsall.

The Owls played without guard Tom Hill, but managed to put four players in double figures. Keith (Kebo) Ligon paced the Owl scoring with 15 points followed by Lonnie Knowles with 14, Lee Green with 11 and Eric Grant with 10.

But the big guns were in Pearsall uniforms. Mike Wilson burned the nets for 30 points, and S. Wilson had 22 with Lawler adding another 18. The trio scored all but 9 of the Maverick points.

The loss left Hondo 2-2 in District 28-AA play.

Overkill of spike bucks claimed

Rancher Bill Coffee appeared before Medina County Commissioners Court on Monday and requested that killing of spike bucks be eliminated in Medina County.

Coffee, who ranches on property between Bandera Road and Tarpley Road 15 miles north of Hondo, said that some ranchers have permitted such heavy kills of spike bucks that future deer herds are endangered. He said he had discussed the matter with some other ranchers who agree with him.

Commissioners told Coffee that they cannot, under present state laws, make it illegal to kill spike bucks. The only option open to commissioners court is to agree to have Medina County come under State Parks and Wildlife regulations or not be covered by the regulations. If the county does not agree to state regulatory powers it faces local enforcement problems.

County Judge Jerome Decker told commissioners that State Representative John Poerner plans to introduce legislation in the current legislative session which will give county commissioners courts an option to eliminate any one section of game control legislation during any one specified year. Commissioners requested Medina County be included in such legislation.

Decker said that Uvalde, Dimmit and Frio counties had requested such legislation. Similar legislation had been prepared by the late Dave Howard, District 49 State Representative who passed away at the beginning of the 1969 legislative session.

Hollmig gets scholarship

Craig Hollmig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Hollmig of New Braunfels and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hollmig of Hondo, has been awarded a D.C. Greer scholarship to Texas A&M University at College Station.

He was chosen by the civil engineering scholarship committee. Craig is a junior at A&M.

The young people will be guests of honor at the banquet the evening of Feb. 12 and will be recognized during the rodeo.

All of the young people have been outstanding in leadership projects at the county, district and sometimes state levels. They have held many local and district offices, and competed in various contests and result demonstrations.

Ligon hits 29 to help dump Dragons 91-53

Hondo blitzed Southwest 91-53 Friday night on the Dragon court, paced by Keith (Kebo) Ligon's 29 points, and 20 from Lonnie Knowles, Eric Grant, the other Owl to hit in double figures, had 14 points.

Hondo started slowly, but midway through the first quarter, began breaking the Dragon press almost at will for easy baskets underneath. While Ligon hit well from around the free throw line, feeds to him by Tom Hill and other Owls accounted for many of his points in close.

The Owls, in addition to shattering the Southwest press, stole the ball and turned in the fast break off the boards regularly. By the end of the first quarter, they were out in front, 19-9.

Knowles put on a free throw shooting exhibition in the second period, dropping in 8 charity tosses. By half-time, Hondo was out in front 42-22.

Ligon hit a rebound as the third quarter opened, and followed that field goal up with a pivot shot, a short bucket in close and an 8-foot jumper. Hill added a free throw, and then Ligon went back to work.

The big sophomore popped in a rebound, and put in another easy one from under the bucket. Grant slipped into the scoring with a basket on the end of a fast break, and then it was Ligon again.

He put in another feed in close and stepped to the free throw line to score another point. Knowles scored on a fast break and then Ligon closed out the third quarter scoring with a pivot shot. The score stood at 64-38, and Ligon had accounted for 17 of Hondo's 22 points in the period.

Before the final period was half over, the Owls had exploded to a 79-47 lead, and Coach Dan Keath turned off the heat by withdrawing his starters with 4:06 left in the game.

In earlier games, Keath had been starting senior Lee Green at the high post, and playing him the first and third quarters. Ligon had been playing the position the second and fourth periods.

Friday, however, Keath started Ligon and the sophomore stayed most of the game.

Ricky Powell, who has been starting at a guard post along with Hill, stayed home Friday after being laid low with the flu.

Ligon got his 29 points on 12 field goals and 5 free throws, while Knowles had 6 baskets and 8 free throws. Grant scored 6 field goals and 2 free throws, and Hill got 7 points on 3 baskets and a free throw.

At the low post, James Batteau had 6 points on 3 field goals. Dennis Neuman had a basket and a brace of charity tosses for 4 points. Green and Gordon Wiemers each had a basket and a free throw for 3 points each, and Kurt Leinweber dropped in a pair of free throws for 2 points.

The San Antonio Livestock Exposition announces that four outstanding country - western stars will appear at the 1971 Stock Show and Rodeo, Feb. 12 through 21, at Joe Freeman Coliseum.

This is the third year in a row that the San Antonio Stock Show and Rodeo has presented different stars to headline performances during the 10-day run of the Rodeo of Champions. By splitting up engagements, stock show officials find they can bring the most famous to San Antonio. Also on the plus side, it permits fans to see several of their particular favorites.

The impressive roster of stars for the 22nd Annual Stock Show and Rodeo is a brilliant one. They are: Roy Clark, co-host of TV's weekly fun fest "Hee Haw"; Conway Twitty and His Twitty Birds, one of country music's top recording stars; Lynn Anderson, the vivacious star of television and recordings, and Charlie Walker, genial recording and stage star.

Kicking off the gigantic show is amazing Roy Clark. A sure-fire showstopper, Clark headlines the first four days during performances of the Rodeo of Champions-- Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, Feb. 12, 13, 14 and 15.

Clark in the vernacular of the entertainment world is "red hot" right now. Starting out as a guitarist and any Roy Clark fan knows that "nobody but nobody" plays guitar like Roy, he has expanded his talents into the fields of comedy, vocalizing, and acting-- scoring a smashing success in all.

At the 1970 Country Music Awards, Clark walked off with honors as the "Comedian of the Year" and ranked among the top five for "Entertainer of the Year" and "Instrumentalist of the Year". These coveted awards make Roy Clark one of the most versatile and respected talents in country music history.

Often billed as the fastest guitar player in the world, he is one of the finest guitarists seen or heard. His fast-torrid playing of "Maleguena" galvanizes his audiences. In addition to guitar, Roy is a master of many instruments including violin, banjo (twice National Banjo Champion), piano, trumpet, trombone, and drums.

The release of his first big vocal hit, "The Tip Of My Fingers" greatly expanded Roy's popularity. That was a lonesome love ballad of the very finest kind, and the song and singer became one of the most applauded combinations of the year.

Recently it is his unique brand of humor seen on television and in personal appearances that capture the audience's fancy. His weekly appearance on "Hee Haw" and frequent guest shots on other top television shows add to the celebrated legend of Clark.

In his appearances at the San Antonio Stock Show and Rodeo, Roy will showcase his multiple talents to bring memorable performances that no one will want to miss.

Conway Twitty and His Twitty Birds headline performances at the Rodeo during the three days of Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 16, 17, and 18.

All country music fans know the sensational sound of Twitty and his group since their recording "Hello, Darling", has been the most programmed record of 1970, according to a nationwide survey among country music disc jockies. Due to this record and his other record successes, Twitty was named one of the five top male vocalists at the 1970 Country Music Awards.

The career of Twitty is unique in the fact that he was a successful rock singer before he turned to country music. Several of his rock records were million sellers and the list was topped by "It's Only Make Believe," a song that he wrote.

Contacted in 1965 by Decca Records, Twitty recorded his first Country Music session. The record of successes has been like a storybook since that time with several No. 1 country music hits.

Twitty and His Birds have a road schedule that sees him performing over 200 days a year throughout the United States.

In their San Antonio appearance, Conway Twitty and his Twitty Birds will bring all their favorite recordings in their swinging, rhythm-packed performances.

Lynn Anderson and Charlie Walker co-headline as stars during the final weekend of the Stock Show and Rodeo, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 19, 20, and 21.

Lovely Lynn has hit it big both as a television and recording star. She's been a regular Lawrence Welk TV performer and now makes frequent guest appearances. She has also appeared on the Kraft Music Hall, Johnny Cash, "Hee Haw" and other top-rated television shows. For here is a girl who looks as good as she sings!

Named "Outstanding Female Vocalist" by the Western Country Academy of Stars and "Most Promising Female Vocalist of 1967" by Cash Box Magazine, Lynn has lived up to all expectations. She is now riding the crest of fame as one of the top five 1970 female vocalists honored by the Country Music Awards. Some of her hit Columbia records include "Promises, Promises", "Ride, Ride, Ride" and "That's A No No".

Lynn comes from a famous country music family. Her mother is a top RCA-Victor artist and is one of the most successful song writers in Nashville. Her father is also a writer and operates the family's publishing enterprises. She has won more than 100 trophies and six hundred ribbons in horse shows, rodeos and parades. Now interested in Quarter Horses, she owns a scenic Tennessee farm where she is rapidly building her Quarter Horse Operation.

Co-headliner Charlie Walker, a once-upon-a-time San Antonian, has skyrocketed to national country and western prominence as a recording and stage attraction. He was a tremendous hit when he appeared at the San Antonio Stock Show and Rodeo in 1967 and 1969.

Walker's first recording release of "Tell Her Lies and Feed Her Candy" was soon followed by his No. 1 single of "Pick Me Up On Your Way Down"--a near million selling record that netted him Columbia's Golden Guitar Award. Then came a long list of Epic hits including "Wild as a Wildcat", "Close all the Honky Tonks", "Don't Squeeze the Sharmen" and "Moffet, Oklahoma".

Charlie has also chalked up numerous appearances via TV guest appearances on some of the leading Country and Western shows. He's become a sought-after entertainer at the posh Las Vegas Clubs.

Beautiful Lynn and genial Charlie are an unbeatable duo to headline a show. Both are versatile, personable, and talented singers who know what country music is all about.

The Harry Knight Rodeo of Champions will present sixteen thrilling performances highlighted by the country-western stars.

Joe Freeman, life chairman of the San Antonio Livestock Exposition states, "we have been negotiating for months to bring stars of this calibre to the 22nd Annual Stock Show and Rodeo. Now that we have this fine line-up of four great headliners, we anticipate capacity crowds for all performances and we suggest purchasing tickets early. Tickets may be obtained by writing Harry Freeman, Ticket Chairman, P.O. Box 1740, San Antonio, 78206. Tickets set for $3.50, $3, $2.50 and $2.

People with Medicare medical insurance were reminded today that doctor bills for October, November and December may cover their $50 annual deductible for both 1970 and 1971.

Roy L. Swift, district manager for social security in San Antonio, explained that the annual deductible is the first $50 of covered medical expenses accumulated in a calendar year.

But there is a "carry-over" rule that helps the beneficiary who might otherwise have to pay the $50 deductible twice in a short period of time--at the end of one year and the beginning of the next year.

Medical insurance, the voluntary part of Medicare that helps pay doctor bills and other

Social Security

Medicare $50 deductible explained health services, pays 80% of covered expenses after the first $50.

"There can be no Medicare payment until a record is made that you have met your deductible. For this reason, it is a good practice as soon as your bills come to $50 to attach them to a Medicare claim form and send them to the Medicare office in your area," Swift said. For Texas residents this would be in Dallas.

Swift said that anyone needing claim forms for Medicare medical insurance or information about Medicare should see their social security representative when he is in their town. Your representative, Mrs. Fry, will be in Hondo at the District Courtroom of the Courthouse Monday, Jan. 18, at 8:45 a.m.

R.L. Rothe honored by Texas Hiway Dept.

Texas Highway employees of the nine counties in District 11 designated Nov. 25 as "R. L. Rothe Day" in honor of his retirement after 40 years of service as a Texas Highway Department engineer, 10 of them as Assistant District Engineer of Dist. 11.

A descendant of pioneer ranching families in Medina County, Texas, Rothe is a graduate of Hondo High School and of Texas A&M University with a B.S. Degree in Civil Engineering. He was on the dean's list of distinguished students during his senior year. Attending Texas A&M is a long established tradition with the Rothe family in Medina County. The late Louis Rothe, R. L. Rothe's father, attended A&M as early as 1896 and three of Louis Rothe's brothers are also A&M graduates as are numerous nephews and cousins. Four members of the Medina County Rothe "clan" are currently attending Texas A&M. Joe J. Rothe, R. L. Rothe's youngest brother, State Agricultural Agent with the Texas A&M Extension Service, is also an A&M graduate.

R. L. Rothe began work for the Texas Highway Department in 1928 as a member of a surveying crew in the Abilene District. In 1929 he was transferred to Corrigan as office engineer during the surveying and construction of US Highway 287. While in Corrigan he married Miss Aline Thompson, a Corrigan native and Polk County school teacher.

Following completion of US Highway 287, he began work at Texas Highway Department Headquarters in Austin where he served for several years in the Road Design Division. Since his tenure in Austin he has resided at Corrigan and worked in District 11. His first assignment in the district was supervising engineer for a new bridge over the Neches River on US Highway 59, and he has served successively as a Resident Engineer, as District Design Engineer, District Construction Engineer, and as Assistant District Engineer.

For 16 years he has served as president of the District 11 Highway Employees Credit Union. He is a former officer of the Corrigan Lions Club and is a former member of the Society of Professional Engineers and of the Polk County United Fund.

Farewell observances of his four decades of service as a highway engineer included a barbecue by Polk and San Jacinto County highway employees at the camphouse of Donnie Galloway; open house at District 11 headquarters in Lufkin; and a barbecue at Pine Island Bayou Club attended by many contractors and Texas Highway employees. He was presented many unique and useful gifts by highway contractors and District 11 employees, and Mrs. Rothe was presented an orchid corsage and a gift certificate by employees at open house during "R. L. Rothe Day."

In a newspaper article paying tribute to his work as a highway engineer several years ago, J. M. York, recently retired District Engineer of District 11, stated, "Rothe is one of the best-like engineers in the entire state."

In a memo sent to District 11 employees making official announcement of Rothe's retirement, District Engineer M. G. Goode stated: "On the 1st of December our Assistant District Engineer Mr. R. L. Rothe, will retire from the Highway Department and begin his full time duties of raising cattle and hunting, with his headquarters on Piney Creek near Corrigan. We will miss our associations with Mr. Rothe, but we wish him a most profitable and successful career in his new vocation."

Rothe's chief hobby is hunting, as evinced by the fact that in a two-month period one season several years ago he went on a bear hunt in Mexico, to the National Wolf Hunt in Oklahoma, to the Texas State Fox Hunters Meet, and on several deer, turkey, and wildcat hunts.

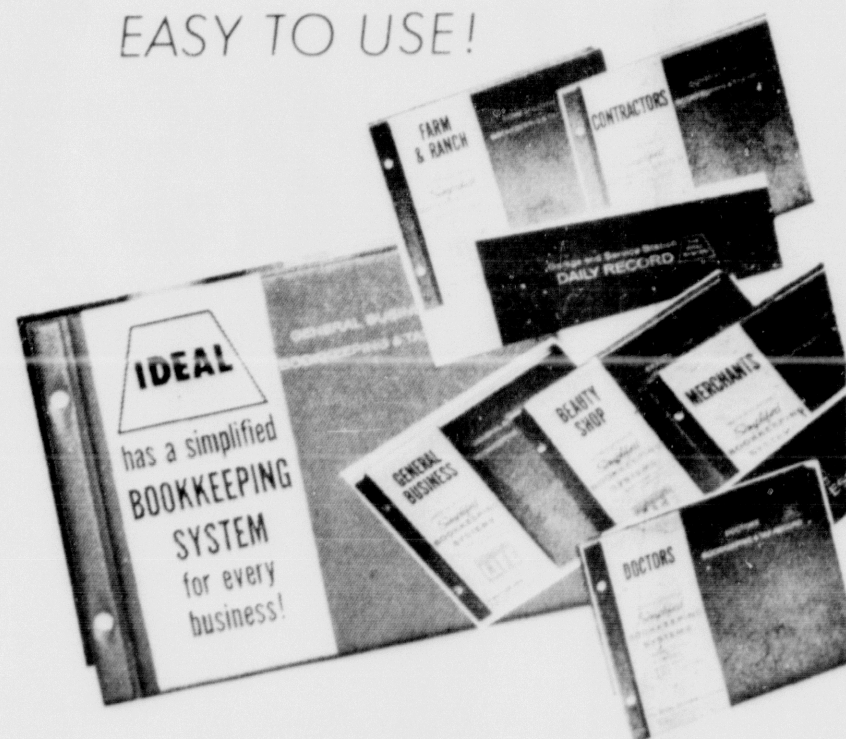

When hunting is not in season, Rothe plans to work with his cattle and pursue two other favorite hobbies--shop crafts and gardening.
